

AllianceBernstein Global Technology Fund, Inc.

1345 Avenue of the Americas
New York, New York 10105

August 18, 2008

Dear Shareholder:

We are sending you this letter to inform you of important changes to the investment strategy of AllianceBernstein Global Technology Fund (the "Fund"), which were recently approved by the Fund's Board of Directors and which will take effect in early November. In light of the new strategy, the Fund's name will be changed to AllianceBernstein Global Thematic Growth Fund.

Since the Fund's inception in 1982, the development and implementation of innovative technologies has transformed large parts of the world's economy, and virtually every public company has been impacted by technology and benefits from technological advancements and improvements. This has significantly affected the opportunities available to global investors. In light of these developments, the Fund's adviser, AllianceBernstein L.P. (the "Adviser") recommended to the Board that the Fund's investment strategy be modified to permit it to invest in a global universe of companies in multiple industry sectors that may benefit from innovation. After careful consideration, including consideration of alternatives, the Board determined that the new strategy was in the best interests of the Fund and approved it.

Pursuant to the Fund's new strategy, the Adviser, drawing on its extensive research capabilities, will assess the effects of economic and technological changes that will influence corporate performance across multiple industry sectors and then assess the effects of these changes, in the context of the business cycle, on entire industries and on individual companies. Through this process, the Adviser will identify key investment themes for the Fund. Current examples of these themes include the broadband revolution, climate change and the growth of the middle class in the developing world.

In connection with the new strategy, the Board approved the elimination of the Fund's current investment policy requiring it under normal circumstances to invest at least 80% of its total assets in securities of companies expected to derive a substantial portion of their revenues from products and services in technology-related industries and/or benefit from technological advances and improvements ("technology securities"). Under the new thematic strategy the Fund will not be required to invest any minimum percentage of its assets in technology securities, but the Adviser currently believes that at least initially a material portion of the Fund's assets will continue to be invested in technology securities.

Additional information about the Fund's new strategy and portfolio management team and other matters is included in the enclosed supplement to the Fund's prospectus, which you should review carefully.

Thank you for your continuing interest in the Fund.

Sincerely,

Marc O. Mayer
President