2. How AB Concentrated Australian Equities Fund Class A Works

The AB Concentrated Australian Equities Fund is a registered managed investment scheme with multiple unit classes. We treat all investors in the same class of units equally and investors in different classes of units fairly. The units offered under this PDS are units in CAE Class A. CAE Class A is governed by the Fund's constitution. The constitution sets out the rules and procedures under which the Fund, including CAE Class A, must operate. Under the terms of the Fund's constitution amounts invested by individual investors in all classes of the Fund are pooled with other investors' money. The investment manager uses the amounts invested in the Fund to buy assets on behalf of investors in all classes of the Fund (including CAE Class A) in accordance with the investment strategy for the Fund. The total value of the Fund is divided into units in all classes of the Fund. While all classes of the Fund share the same pool of Fund assets, the management costs charged to each class will differ.

When you invest you will be issued with units in CAE Class A. The units issued to you represent your beneficial interest in the assets of CAE Class A as a whole. You do not have an entitlement to any particular asset of CAE Class A. We will calculate a price for your units (unit price) and keep a record of the units you have acquired. Your unit prices will rise or fall as the market value of CAE Class A's assets rise or fall. You can increase your units by making additional investments or reinvesting income distributions and decrease your units by making withdrawals.

Unit Prices

A unit price is usually calculated every business day. A business day means a day on which banks are open for business in Sydney, except a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday. The unit price for CAE Class A for a business day is calculated as that day's market value of assets less accrued expenses and other liabilities divided by the number of units on issue.

CAE Class A application and withdrawal prices are determined by adding to, or subtracting from the unit price our estimate of transaction costs, commonly called the buy/sell spread. Please refer to section 6 "Additional explanation of fees and costs" for further information on the buy/sell spread.

Investing

Persons who are Qualified Investors may apply to invest in CAE Class A (see page 1 of this PDS for the definition of "Qualified Investor"). To invest in CAE Class A you will need to send us a completed Application Form, together with other documents requested (such as satisfactory identification) and pay your investment amount.

Provided you continue to be a Qualified Investor you may add to your investment at any time by sending us a new Application Form or your written instructions and pay your additional investment amount.

The following minimum investment amounts apply

Minimum initial investment	$50,000
Minimum additional investment	$5,000

We have the discretion to accept lower amounts, change the minimums that apply and reserve the right not to accept an application for any reason.

Please see section 8 "How to apply" for more information.

Withdrawing

You can withdraw all or part of your investment by sending us a completed Withdrawal Request Form or a written notice of withdrawal. You can send withdrawal requests by mail, courier or fax.

Withdrawal proceeds will normally be paid to your Australian bank account within 10 business days following the date of receipt of a valid withdrawal request. However, the Fund's Constitution allows us up to 21 days to pay withdrawal requests.

We have the power to redeem compulsorily your units in certain circumstances, including where you cease to be a Qualified Investor (see page 1 of this PDS for the definition of "Qualified Investor" and page 4 of this PDS for details on Compulsory redemption risk).

Restrictions on Withdrawals

In certain circumstances you may not be able to withdraw your investment within the usual time period upon request.

We may suspend or freeze withdrawals where we believe it would not be in the best interests of investors taken as a whole to sell sufficient assets to satisfy a withdrawal request due to circumstances out of our control (such as market closures and trading restrictions) or the Fund has become illiquid per the Corporations Act.

How Your Transaction Is Processed

The cut-off time for the receipt of application and withdrawal requests is 2pm each business day. Validly completed application and withdrawal requests received before the 2pm cut-off on a business day will normally be processed using the application or withdrawal price applicable for that business day. Since market values are not available until after the end of the business day when the markets have closed, CAE Class A's application and withdrawal prices are calculated within two business days later. Valid application and withdrawal requests received after the 2pm cut-off will normally be processed for the next business day.

Distributions

CAE Class A normally distributes quarterly at 30 September, 31 December, 31 March and 30 June. However, we have the discretion to change the distribution frequency and to make additional distributions during any interim period out of income or capital.

Distributions are usually calculated based on CAE Class A's share of the Fund's net taxable income which may include taxable net capital gains divided by CAE Class A's units on issue. Your distribution amount will depend on the units you hold at the end of a distribution period. Distribution amounts are not guaranteed and will vary.

You can choose to have distributions reinvested into additional units or paid in cash directly into your account with an Australian bank or financial institution. If you do not choose cash, we will automatically reinvest your distributions. Distributions are usually paid within 14 business days of the end of the distribution period.

Indirect Investors

We authorise the use of this PDS for investors or prospective investors who wish to invest in CAE Class A through an investor directed portfolio service (IDPS) or IDPS-like scheme, commonly referred to as a master trust, wrap account, platform, nominee or custody service.

Investors gaining exposure to CAE Class A through an IDPS are Indirect Investors and do not become unitholders in CAE Class A. Instead, it is generally the operator of the IDPS which invests for you and has the rights of a unitholder. The IDPS operator may exercise their rights in accordance with their arrangements with you.

Indirect Investors complete the application forms for the IDPS and receive reports including transaction statements from their IDPS operator, not us. Additional investments and withdrawals are also to be made through the IDPS operator. Inquiries should be directed to the operator of the IDPS. Indirect Investors need to follow the instructions of the IDPS platform operator. The IDPS operator may also apply different conditions to those outlined in this PDS including different cut-off times for applications and withdrawals.

Nominee Investors

If your investment in CAE Class A is not held in your name (for example, because you invested on the advice of a financial adviser and your investment is registered in the name of a nominee, such as a custodian), then we may only be able to take instructions in relation to your investment in CAE Class A (for example, a redemption request) by communicating with the registered holder.

You should read the important Additional Information about "How the Fund works" before making a decision to invest. Go to section 2 of the Additional Information at alliancebernstein.com.au for more information. Information relating to "How the Fund works" may change between the time you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

3. Benefits of Investing in the AB Concentrated Australian Equities Fund Class A Significant Features

CAE Class A implements a value investment strategy by seeking to invest in a portfolio of shares in companies which we assess through our research and analysis to be undervalued by the market. The portfolio is actively managed by experienced investment professionals and typically comprises approximately 15 to 25 securities selected without reference to the composition of the Benchmark while seeking to generate returns that exceed the Benchmark over the medium to long term.

CAE Class A aims to invest in attractively valued companies generating strong cash-flows derived from our most compelling investment ideas. CAE Class A primarily invests in Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) listed shares and cash.

Significant Benefits

Capital growth and income: Potential for long-term capital growth and franked dividend income.

Tax efficient: Strategies that aim to enhance after tax returns.

Professional management: Access to experienced AB investment professionals and their investment processes including their proprietary research, asset selection and risk management capabilities.

Ongoing information: Regular investment statements and annual tax statements to keep you fully informed about your investment.

4. Risks of Managed Investment Schemes

All investments carry risk and different investment strategies may carry different levels of risk depending on the assets held. Generally, assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest levels of risk.

The value of your investment in CAE Class A as a unit class of the Fund and its investment returns will vary up or down as the value of the Fund's investments vary and future returns may differ from past returns. The returns of CAE Class A are not guaranteed, and you could receive back less than you initially invested. Laws affecting managed investment schemes may change in the future. Your appropriate level of risk will vary depending on a number of factors including your age, investment time frames, where other parts of your wealth are invested and your overall tolerance to risk.

We aim to minimise some of CAE Class A's risks by investing in accordance with the Fund's investment strategy, monitoring the Fund and CAE Class A and acting in your best interests. However, risk cannot be eliminated so it's important that you consider your appropriate level of risk before making a decision.

The significant risks of investing in CAE Class A are typical for a fund that invests in Australian equity securities. These risks include:

Market risk: Market risk is the potential for loss due to a decline in the investment markets and the decline in market prices for an asset. Factors that can affect investment markets include, but are not limited to, economic cycles, investor demand levels, business confidence, interest rates, low liquidity, government policies, political unrest, wars, terrorism, pandemics and natural, nuclear and environmental disasters.

Individual investment risk: This is the risk associated with an individual investment held in the Fund. The value of your investment in CAE Class A is dependent on the performance of the individual investments held by the Fund. The values of individual assets can vary up or down for many reasons including changes in a company's financial or operating circumstances.

Concentrated portfolio risk: The Fund invests in a small number of securities which may increase the volatility of CAE Class A's unit price and the risk of underperformance compared to a fund invested in a larger number of securities. A concentration of investments could expose investors to losses larger than the market movements in general if there are adverse price movements in the securities in which the Fund is invested.

Market or economic factors affecting securities, industries or sectors in which the Fund's investments are concentrated could have a significant effect on the value of the Fund's investments.

Dual listed securities risk: The Fund may invest in dual listed securities, where a security is listed on the ASX and on a recognised foreign stock exchange. Investments in companies listed on a foreign stock exchange are denominated in foreign currencies and involve the risk of loss caused by foreign currency movements.

Derivatives risk: The Fund may use derivatives as an alternative to direct purchases of assets or to manage exposures and risks. However, they can also create additional risks such as default risk or the possibility that the derivative position is difficult or costly to reverse or that it does not perform as expected. Derivatives transactions may give rise to a form of leverage, which creates the opportunity for greater returns and also magnifies potential losses. Some derivatives require security (collateral) or margin, meaning the Fund must deliver cash or other securities to a counterparty.

Liquidity risk: Liquidity risk is the risk that assets cannot be sold at all or quickly enough to avoid or minimise a loss. A lack of liquidity may also affect the amount of time it takes for us to satisfy withdrawal requests. There is no secondary market for the resale of units in CAE Class A and none is expected to develop. While you may submit withdrawal requests, if we were to receive one or more withdrawal requests, we might be unable to liquidate sufficient Fund assets to meet such withdrawals and we might exercise our discretion to suspend withdrawals.

Where the Fund is illiquid for the purpose of the Corporations Act, withdrawals may only be made in accordance with the procedures in the Corporations Act. This means that you will only have a right to redeem when we make an offer to all investors in CAE Class A to redeem a certain amount. Accordingly, investments in CAE Class A should be considered only by investors who determine that the investment will not interfere with their liquidity requirements.

Compulsory redemption risk: Under the Fund's Constitution, we have the power to redeem your units compulsorily without receiving a redemption request from you. If you cease to be a Qualified Investor for any reason (see page 1 of this PDS for the definition of a "Qualified Investor") we will redeem all of your units without you giving us a redemption request and you will receive your redemption proceeds and cease to hold an investment in CAE Class A.

Operational risk: Operational risk refers to the risk of loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, human error, system failures or external events. It also includes cyber risk; risk of fraud, data loss, business disruption or damage to the information of the Fund or CAE Class A or investors' personal information as a result of a threat or failure to protect the information or data stored within systems and/or service providers.

Fund/ Class risk: Fund risk includes the possibility that the Fund and CAE Class A could be suspended, terminated (including if we determine to close the Fund if it fails to maintain reasonable scale) or there are changes to its rules, its features, its structure (such as issuing additional unit classes), its fees and costs, its parties (such as its responsible entity and investment manager) and laws (including taxation laws) applicable to registered managed investment schemes. There is also a risk that investing in CAE Class A may give different results than investing directly. This is because your money is pooled with other investors and their applications and withdrawals together with our investment decisions may impact your entitlements to income and capital gains. For example, the Fund may or may not participate in share buy-backs and depending on your particular circumstances, this may or may not benefit you. Unit classes are not separate legal entities and therefore the liabilities of one class are not fully segregated from other classes. This means that, in the event that the assets of a class of the Fund are insufficient to satisfy the liabilities of that class, the assets of other classes of the Fund may be used to satisfy those liabilities.

Conflicts of interest: Conflicts of interest may arise from time to time. Arrangements exist across AB which seek to identify, mitigate, manage and report any actual or potential conflicts of interest.

Conflicts are minimised by the structure of our business. We do not take market positions on behalf of AB. The services of related entities, including the services of affiliated brokers, may be used. Related entity activities are contracted on an arm's length commercial basis.

Directors and employees of AB or their related bodies corporate may, from time to time, invest in and hold units in the funds issued by AB.

ESG integration risk: Assessment of ESG integration into our investment process is complex and may be based on environmental, social, or governance data which is difficult to obtain and incomplete, estimated, out of date or otherwise materially inaccurate. Even when identified, there can be no guarantee that these data will be correctly assessed.

5. How We Invest Your Money

You should consider the likely investment return, risk and your investment timeframe when choosing to invest in CAE Class A.

AB Concentrated Australian Equities Fund Class A

Fund description	CAE Class A is designed for investors who have a high risk and return profile and are seeking an investment in a portfolio of concentrated Australian equities (approximately 15 to 25 securities primarily listed in Australia selected without reference to the composition of the Benchmark) which offer the potential for capital growth. The investor would typically have at least a five-year investment timeframe. The investor would only seek to use the product for 10% or less of the total investable assets held by that consumer as part of a more broadly diversified portfolio of assets. CAE Class A is a unit class of the Fund which implements a value investment strategy and provides exposure to an actively managed, high conviction equity portfolio. We use a combination of thorough company level (fundamental) research and quantitative risk tools to select investments that we consider to have the most attractive risk and return prospects. CAE Class A may invest in securities listed in Australia, dual listed securities (where a security is listed in Australia and on a recognised foreign stock exchange), securities with equity characteristics (such as listed trusts, ETFs, REITS, partly paid securities, preference shares, rights, convertibles, warrants and depository receipts), securities we reasonably expect to be listed within six months (including initial public offerings and private placements) and cash. Derivatives will not be used for leveraging or gearing purposes but can be used to manage (hedge) foreign currency and investment risk, invest cash or gain investment exposure subject to the following restrictions. Over the counter derivatives will only be used for hedging foreign exchange exposures. All exchange traded derivatives will not exceed 10% of CAE Class A net asset value, excluding those used to manage the financial risk associated with deferring the purchase of CAE Class A equity investments (i.e. investing cash) when they are held for no more than 28 days.
Asset classes and asset allocation ranges	CAE Class A is expected to have an asset allocation of 75%–100% to Australian equity securities. Cash is intended to make up 0%–25% of CAE Class A net asset value.
Investment return objective	CAE Class A aims to achieve returns that exceed the S&P/ASX 300 Accumulation Index, after fees, over the medium to long term. There is no guarantee that CAE Class A will achieve this objective or produce any positive returns.
Benchmark	S&P/ASX 300 Accumulation Index.
Minimum suggested investment timeframe	Five to seven years.
Risk level	High. This Fund aims to produce higher returns and therefore carries a higher level of risk than an investment that aims to produce more modest returns.
Switching	CAE Class A only has one investment option. Switching is not available.
Labour, environmental, social and ethical standards	Environmental, social, and governance (including ethical and labour) (“ESG”) factors can impact performance. As a result, ESG factors are integrated into our investment process in order to identify investment risks and opportunities. These factors are a component of our research process that help to inform whether we invest in, continue to hold or sell any particular security. Apart from companies directly involved in the manufacture of tobacco products (MSCI GICS industry 302030) and investments in entities directly involved in the manufacture of controversial weapons including anti-personnel mines, cluster munitions, depleted uranium, biological weapons, chemical weapons and incendiary weapons which are excluded from CAE Class A, we do not have a predetermined list of securities or industry sectors in which we will not invest. Instead we consider these factors, as we become aware of them and on a case by case basis, in our investment decisions. ESG factors also form part of our engagement with issuers and are considered when exercising voting rights. We are a signatory to the United Nations supported Principles for Responsible Investment. For more information about our approach to ESG please refer to Section 5 of Additional Information.
Changes to Fund details	The statements in this section are current at the date of this PDS. We have the right to make changes to the Fund or CAE Class A from time to time. We will notify you of any changes as required by the Corporations Act or the Constitution of the Fund.

You should read the important Additional Information about “How we invest your money” before making a decision to invest. Go to section 5 of the Additional Information at alliancebernstein.com.au for more information. 6. Fees and Costs

Did You Know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To Find Out More

If you would like to find out more or see the impact of fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities & Investments Commission (ASIC) Moneysmart website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed funds fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

This section shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from CAE Class A assets as a whole.

Taxes are set out in another part of this document.

You should read all information about fees and costs because it's important to understand their impact on your investment.

Additional Explanation of Fees and Costs

Management fees and costs

The year to 30 June 2023 Management fees and costs were 0.425%. This amount is higher than the 0.40% per the fees and costs summary above because we reduced our fees from 0.50% to 0.40% per annum on 1 October 2022. The Management fees and costs include our fees, investment management fees, custody fees, administration costs and audit and tax adviser fees. We will limit the per annum Management fees and costs to 0.40% but this limit excludes indirect costs, abnormal costs and transaction costs.

Transaction costs

CAE Class A will also incur transaction costs, including but not necessarily limited to brokerage, settlement costs, stamp duties, bid/ask, and/or buy/sell spreads and clearing fees when you invest in or withdraw from CAE Class A and when we buy and sell its assets or settle its transactions.

CAE Class A's nil transaction costs shown in the fees and costs summary is CAE Class A's 2023 0.08% gross transaction costs shown net of the amounts recovered by the buy/sell spread charged by us. Any transaction costs not recovered by the buy/sell spread charged by us reduces your unit value and would therefore be an additional cost to you. Past costs are not a reliable indicator of future costs.

CAE Class A will recover an estimate of the transaction costs which are incurred or which would be incurred when buying or selling assets to satisfy your application or withdrawal via the buy/sell spread which is included in the price of your units. As at the date of this PDS, the current buy spread added upon application is 0.25% of the unit price and upon withdrawal the current sell spread deducted is 0.25% of the unit price. For example, if you invested $50,000 in CAE Class A the cost to you of the buy spread would be approximately $125. There is no buy/sell spread on income distributions reinvested. The buy/sell spread may change if our estimate of transaction costs change.

Changes to the fees and costs

All fees and costs are current at the date of this PDS and are subject to change without your consent. If we increase Management fees and costs we will give you 30 days written advance notice. However, we will not usually provide investors with advice notice of changes to indirect costs, abnormal costs or to the buy/sell spread. Any changes to the buy/sell spreads or to fees and costs will be provided at alliancebernstein.com.au. Management fees and costs may change for many reasons including but not limited to an increase or decrease in CAE Class A's administrative, custody or investment management costs. Any changes to the fees will be in accordance with the Fund's Constitution.

You should read the important Additional Information about "Fees and costs" before making a decision to invest. Go to section 6 of the Additional Information at alliancebernstein.com.au for more information. Information relating to "Fees and costs" may change between the time you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

7. How Managed Investment Schemes Are Taxed

Investing in a registered managed investment scheme is likely to have tax consequences. We strongly advise you to seek professional tax advice before investing in CAE Class A.

The Fund has made an election to be treated as an Attribution Managed Investment Trust. Generally, the Fund itself should not be subject to Australian income tax but you will be subject to tax on assessable income fairly and reasonably attributed to you by the Fund. The assessable income attributed to you may include net capital gains and tax offsets, and your CAE Class A distributions may include non-attributable amounts.

You may also be subject to tax when you dispose of your CAE Class A investment. In addition, tax may be withheld from your income distributions if you do not quote a valid tax file number (or if applicable, an Australian Business Number) or are a non-resident investor.

You should read the important Additional Information about "How managed investment schemes are taxed" before making a decision to invest. Go to section 7 of the Additional Information at alliancebernstein.com.au for more information. Information relating to "How managed investment schemes are taxed" may change between the time you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

You will also need to send us a completed Application Form together with other documents requested (such as satisfactory identification) by mail, courier or fax and pay your investment amount. An Application Form is available at alliancebernstein.com.au or by contacting us on (02) 9255 1299 or by email on aust_clientservice@alliancebernstein.com.

If you are investing via an IDPS, commonly referred to as a master trust, wrap account, platform, nominee or custody service, you need to follow the IDPS platform operator’s application instructions and complete the IDPS application forms. Inquiries should be directed to the IDPS operator.

Cooling Off

Retail investors have a 14-day cooling-off period during which they may have their investment money (subject to certain adjustments) returned to them. This 14-day cooling-off period starts on the earlier of the date you receive the transaction confirmation or five days from the date on which you became an investor. Within this period, you may withdraw your investment by sending us a letter. The letter must reference your investment in CAE Class A and include your full name, address, date of birth and amounts invested, and, if known, your investor number and date of application.

Generally, the amount repaid to retail investors will be their investment amount, adjusted to take into account market movements (either up or down) to the date (or as soon as practicable after) of receipt of the cooling-off notice, less an amount for reasonable administrative and transaction costs. Indirect Investors should contact their IDPS operator to determine what cooling-off rights apply.

Complaints

We have established procedures for dealing with complaints. If you are an Indirect Investor, you may contact your IDPS operator with your complaint. If you are under the advice of a financial adviser, you may also contact your financial adviser with your complaint.
